MESSAGE FROM THE HEADTEACHER

Dear Families

We have reached the final week of Autumn 1 and what a great first half term it has been. We have had special events, Governor visits, authors, rock concerts, award ceremonies and so much learning! I really have a lot to thank my amazing team for who make it all happen. Many give up so much of their time to go the extra mile for your children and I know that I am one very lucky Headteacher.

Thank you to everyone who came on Saturday and took part in our Spooktacular event. It was sensational and a HUGE thanks to Mrs Normington who organised it all and the carved pumpkins really set off the scene perfectly! I am pleased to share that we raised £325 all of which will go back to supporting our Forest School Provision.

Celebration Assembly

On Monday, we held our Celebration Assembly where we celebrated children's achievements in school and outside of school. This was a brilliant assembly which really showcased the talents and hard work of our pupils throughout the term. In the assembly, we awarded children who had achieved 30 Proud Points their certificates, our class community cup and other awards such as the library reading challenges and trophies children had earned in their sporting or extra-curricular clubs.

Well done everyone and a special well done to our Class Community Champions for this half term who are....

Wyatt – Yellow Class
Jessica – Green Class
Malique – The Nest
Mia - RFLRS
Millie – RAM
Fabio - 1CL
Poppy - 1ES
Gregory - 2DW
Eduard – 2HD

Adriana - 3CW

Marcel – 6BC
Maya - 6ENCL

Parents' Evening

Have you booked your Parents' Evening appointment? We are holding our Parents' Evenings on 13th & 14th November for mainstream and 13th November for Specialist Unit. It is a really important opportunity for you to learn about your child's progress and ask any questions that you may have. You can book by clicking on this link.

We have also had a new mini playground installed behind our Lodge. Yellow and Red class will be using this space for their playtimes but the whole school will get to use this amazing space. Just more environment improvements because your children deserve it!

Smile!

This week, our reception children and their siblings had their photos taken and it was a wonderful moment to reflect on just how well they have settled in. Already, they are very independent and their reading, writing and number work is progressing brilliantly! What a fantastic start they have made.

Keep up to date

Please sign up to our Facebook page for more information about what we do here at EHPS and please know that our doors are always open if you have a question, concern or even want to let us know what we do well.

Finally, on Wednesday, Year 6 jetted off to their PGL residential and I look forward to sharing all of the fun that they got up to and the children who remained at school (because they also had lots of fun) when we get back after the half term.

See you all after the half term where we begin Autumn 2 and our run up (dare I say it...) to Christmas!

Ms Pennington

P.S. YEAR 6 FAMILIES - Don't forget you need to make your Secondary School application by midnight on 31st October 2024. Click the link to access the application form.

After half term, we will be supporting the Royal British Legion Poppy Appeal. You can come to the school office before or after school with your child to purchase items or send money into school so your child can make a donation during the day.

SU NEWS - BLUE CLASS

Blue Class have been very busy learning about Autumn. The weather has been very kind to us and we have enjoyed taking our learning outdoors to collect fallen Autumn leaves, conkers and pine cones. The children have been investigating what they found both in school and at home and this has supported new language development.

We have created beautiful Autumn inspired artwork which is proudly hanging in the classroom but rolling conkers through paint to create trails was definitely the favourite activity of the week. Especially when the conkers rolled out of tray and made paint trails across the floor!

Who works at East Hunsbury Primary School? Meet the Team

Hello everyone! I'm Rachel and I teach in the Specialist Unit, in Red Class. I've been teaching here for 5 years and love being a part of the East Hunsbury family.

So a little about me!
Family is important to me and I can often be found in my spare time playing board games and visiting friends. I like country walks and any excuse for a visit to a café! I have two beautiful cats, the lovely Cassi and Stitch, who is only 1 and loves to rip kitchen roll apart and unravel balls of string. I love animals and if I hadn't been a teacher, I think I would have loved working at a safari park.

Ultimately, I became a teacher to help children achieve their best. I have become passionate in my career about ensuring ALL children, no matter their need or circumstance has the help and support to achieve their potential. Day to day, nothing is better than when a child you teach has that lightbulb moment, that moment of success where they are as proud as you are of their achievement.

WHAT'S IT LIKE TO BE A...?

SKY NEWS WEATHER PRESENTER

We imagine you have to wake up pretty early, don't you? Talk us through your morning.

My alarm goes off at around 3.45am every morning but, luckily, I live quite close to work! I'm up, ready and in by around 4.20am. I come straight into the weather office and check all the latest data from the Met Office. I figure out the weather story for the next 48 hours, really. Then I head to make-up, so they can make me look normal and awake! Then I head back to the weather office to do some recordings. I have about 20 recordings to do throughout my shift. I also record for our website and apps, and I tweet and Facebook – it's all about online these days! We then go on air at 6am.

Wow! A busy day! Anything else?

I also write the weather for the Sky News website and, of course, the First News weather bulletin recording! That's actually what I do straight away, first thing in the morning. I record that, I clip it up and I send it off to the library.

You LOVE weather, don't you?

I love weather. I live and breathe weather. You are sat with weather! Weather is my obsession! Even when I go home I'm still looking up weather articles and checking the latest data before I go to bed.

What's your favourite type of weather, Naz?

I love that question! I prefer the season of spring – I'm not one that likes it too hot. It's warm, though, it's sunny and it's dry.

What was your favourite subject at school?

I loved the sciences. I did all the sciences at GCSE. I also did geography and maths. I even did theatre studies at A level, randomly.

And which subjects are useful if you're looking at a career in weather?

Geography's the big one. You don't have to, but it would be really helpful. Physics can also be quite helpful.

What Parents & Educators Need to Know about HORROR FILMS & AGE RATINGS

The 'on-demand' availability of streaming platforms in many homes creates extra possibilities for young viewers to be exposed to age-inappropriate content. Material which features horror or violence can cause anxiety and nightmares for children, especially since it can be hard for young ones to grasp that what they're watching isn't real.

CLASSIFICATION BREAKDOWN

The British Board of Film Classification has the following age ratings:

- U: Suitable for all ages
- PG: For children aged 8 and above, this content is suitable for them
- PG-13: Children under the age of 13 should not watch without an adult, this content occasionally features bad language, nudity or sexual references
- R: Suitable only for 16-year-olds and above
- RR: Exclusively for an adult audience, with particularly explicit features of violence, nudity or sex

WHAT ARE THE RISKS?

STREAMING IS EVERYWHERE

Modern mobile devices make it very easy for children to watch streaming films without the need for a TV. The availability of inappropriate content on these devices, particularly on streaming platforms, almost all of which have no content controls, is not restricted by parental controls, this could be viewed by children who aren't quite ready for such adult themes, concepts and imagery.

FACT VS. FICTION

Many children have no trouble separating fact from fiction. However, with modern day technology making virtual worlds and games look ever more realistic, it's becoming harder for youngsters to tell the difference. For children, a character resembling a real-life figure, whose violent actions are depicted as being something that would actually happen, can have a more significant impact on them than a character who is clearly fictional.

PEER PRESSURE

Friends encouraging each other to watch the latest film featuring violence or horror can lead to children consuming content that they're not ready for. An 11-year-old is unlikely to be able to distinguish between what's real and what's not, so parents and educators should be aware of this.

CHILDREN SCARE DIFFERENTLY

It can be difficult to decide what content is appropriate for children. What's fine for one child could be extremely frightening for another. As many children don't go to bed without watching the content they watch with their parents, encouraging an open dialogue around the kind of media that young people consume can help avoid exposing them to any inappropriate content.

PSYCHOLOGICAL IMPACTS

Horror preys on a child's ability to identify or induce genuine fear in the viewer - so it's no surprise that this genre isn't usually intended for children. A notable side-effect of this is that 'jump scares' or a scary, suspenseful atmosphere can have lasting effects on a younger mind. The resulting anxiety can appear as a child's sleeping patterns or eating habits.

Advice for Parents & Educators

WATCH THE FILM FIRST

If you're concerned that a film might be unsuitable for children (whether it's their first time or the same genre as a video they've watched), then take a look yourself. There's no better way to judge whether this content is something a child should be exposed to than if a parent, for example, has actually seen the film (or at least a portion of it), they can reassure or at least create some distance from it.

REMEMBER - IT'S NOT REAL

Emphasize to children that the content they're viewing is entirely fictional and has no chance of affecting them in real life. If a child is upset after watching a film, try to understand what exactly has unsettled them. This can help you approach the topic in a reassuring and informative manner, to dispel any fears or worries they may have.

DISCUSS THE CONTENT OF FILMS

If a child has seen a film that you think they may have enjoyed, then try to discuss it with them. This is especially important if they watched the film without an adult present. Ask them to describe the story for you, so this will give you an understanding of what they've learned from watching it.

USE PARENTAL CONTROLS

Most streaming platforms have the option to put age ratings on children's accounts. This limits what time and shows that are appropriate for children. You can also use parental controls to restrict what a child can watch. It's important to be aware of these settings with a parent, as a child can't alter anything on their own.

Meet Our Expert

John Bradley is an assistant principal at a secondary school. He has been involved with e-safety in schools for over 10 years, using his own expertise to help schools and parents understand the risks of inappropriate content. He has delivered a range of e-safety training sessions and has helped to create a safer environment for children in the ever-changing digital world.

10 Top Tips for Parents and Educators SUPPORTING YOUNG PEOPLE TO BUILD EMOTIONAL RESILIENCE

With increasing societal pressures, many children struggle with managing emotions, facing challenges and processing failure in a healthy way. This is why building emotional resilience in young people is vital for their mental health and personal success. This guide provides practical strategies for parents and educators to help children develop resilience and foster confidence, adaptability and a positive mindset.

- 1 ENCOURAGE OPEN COMMUNICATION
Regularly engaging children in open dialogue helps them build self-awareness and emotional regulation. Encourage them to share their feelings and thoughts. Use open-ended questions like 'How do you feel about that?' or 'What was your favorite part of that?' This encourages children to express themselves openly.
- 2 MODEL POSITIVE BEHAVIOUR
Children often learn how to manage emotions by observing adults. By modeling calm and positive responses to challenges, you can teach them valuable emotional management skills. Explain that every problem has a solution, even if it's not immediately obvious. For example, if a child is stuck on homework, instead of saying 'You're not trying hard enough', say 'Let's take a break and try again. I'm going to help you with this.' This shows that setbacks are a normal part of learning.
- 3 TEACH PROBLEM SOLVING SKILLS
Helping children break down challenges into manageable steps encourages a proactive mindset. Explain that every problem has a solution, even if it's not immediately obvious. For example, if a child is stuck on homework, instead of saying 'You're not trying hard enough', say 'Let's take a break and try again. I'm going to help you with this.' This shows that setbacks are a normal part of learning.
- 4 FOSTER A GROWTH MINDSET
Encourage young people to view mistakes as learning opportunities. A growth mindset helps them see setbacks as part of the process, rather than something to be afraid of. After a child loses a game or performs poorly on a test, for example, talk to them about what they've learned from the experience. This reinforces the idea that effort - and even failure - leads to improvement.
- 5 PROMOTE SELF-CARE PRACTICES
Teaching children about self-care helps them understand the importance of balancing their activities. Encourage them to take breaks, get enough sleep, and eat well. Parents and teachers could start a screen-free hour before bedtime where the family engages in relaxing activities like reading, setting an example to the child for how to unwind.
- 6 BUILD HEALTHY RELATIONSHIPS
Strong relationships with peers and adults provide a support system that enhances resilience to manage social stress. Positive relationships can be instrumental in teaching children how to resolve conflicts with friends by modeling and practicing calm communication.
- 7 SUPPORT EMOTIONAL AWARENESS
Helping children to identify and name their emotions allows them to manage those feelings more effectively. When a child is upset, encourage them to talk to you about what they're feeling. In an empathetic and supportive environment, ask them why they might be experiencing these emotions.
- 8 ENCOURAGE INDEPENDENCE
Giving children opportunities to make their own decisions and solve problems on their own builds confidence and problem-solving skills. A good example of this would be letting children choose and pack their own lunches for school, guiding them with options but allowing them to assume responsibility for the task to help them take ownership.
- 9 DEVELOP COPING STRATEGIES
Teaching children techniques like mindfulness, deep breathing or journaling can help them to manage stress. Show them how to perform breathing exercises when they're feeling overwhelmed. Encourage them to regularly practice these techniques. Encouraging this behaviour in young people will make it easier for them to use these skills when they're faced with stressful situations or when they're feeling overwhelmed.
- 10 CELEBRATE SMALL WINS
Recognizing effort, no matter how small, reinforces persistence and encourages children to keep trying. After a child completes a task or achieves a goal, praise their effort. Emphasize the hard work they've put in and be sure to let them know how proud you are.

Optimistic October 2024

MONDAY

TUESDAY

1 Write down three things you can look forward to this month

WEDNESDAY

2 Find something to be optimistic about (even if it's a difficult time)

THURSDAY

3 Take a small step towards a goal that really matters to you

FRIDAY

4 Start your day with the most important thing on your to-do list

SATURDAY

5 Be a realistic optimist. See life as it is, but focus on what's good

SUNDAY

6 Remind yourself that things can change for the better

Look for the good in people around you today

8

Make some progress on a project or task you have been avoiding

Share an important goal with someone you trust

10

Take time to reflect on what you have accomplished recently

11

Avoid blaming yourself or others. Find a helpful way forward

12

Look out for positive news and reasons to be cheerful today

13

Ask for help to overcome an obstacle you are facing

14

Do something constructive to improve a difficult situation

15

Thank yourself for achieving the things you often take for granted

16

Put down your to-do list and do something fun or uplifting

17

Take a small step towards a positive change you want to see in society

18

Set hopeful but realistic goals for the days ahead

19

Identify one of your positive qualities that will be helpful in the future

20

Find joy in tackling a task you've put off for some time

21

Let go of the expectations of others and focus on what matters to you

22

Share a hopeful quote, picture or video with a friend or colleague

23

Recognise that you have a choice about what to prioritise

24

Write down three specific things that have gone well recently

25

You can't do everything! What are your three priorities right now?

26

Find a new perspective on a problem you face

27

Be kind to yourself today. Remember, progress takes time

28

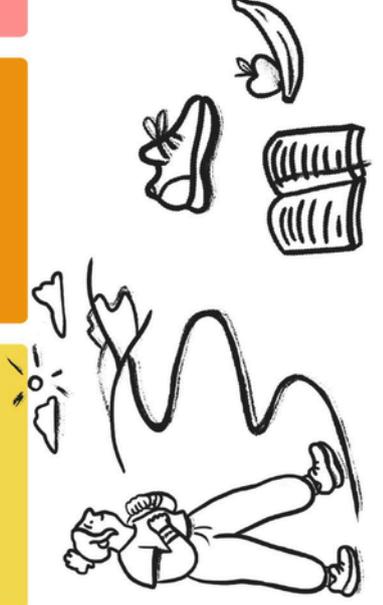

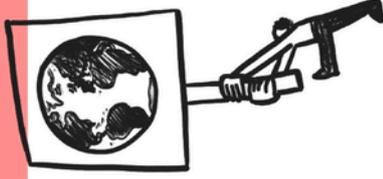

Ask yourself, will this still matter a year from now?

30

Identify three things that give you hope for the future

31

Set a goal that brings a sense of purpose for the coming month
